(By Associated Press)
Madisonville, Ky., July 10—Workers at the mines got their first night's sleep since last Thursday and everything here is quiet following the arrival of troops Saturday night and Sunday. Harding Submits Proposal

Washington July 10—The miners and operators' conference adjourned this morning and went to the President who submitted the proposal to both that the miners return to work at the wage scale in existence when work was suspended April 1 and continue to work on that scale until August 10. Meanwhile an arbitration board would be appointed to negotiate a new wage scale. The commission outlined by Harding, would consist of three members of the United Mine Workers, three appointed by the operators and five representatives of the public to be named by Harding. The operators and miners, it is understood, were asked to give a response by tonight. The arbitration commission is expected to have its award ready by August 10, but if unable to do so, the scale which expired in April, would be continued until April, 1923.

MADISON LEADS IN NEW CONTRACTS

Almost A Thousand New Crops Recorded In Pool, Says Headquarters Report

Madison county leads all the burley district with new contracts signed by growers for the pool, according to reports from Association headquarters in Lexington. County Chairman W. A. Arbuckle is being much congratulated upon the fine showing made. The report from headquarters had this to say:

All previous records were broken for the signing of new contracts by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association the past week, since the close of the sign-up campaign of last November, when it was announced that 925 contracts had been received, representing about 2,000 acres of tobacco. These include 294 signed last week in West Virginia and the eastern Ohio counties.

Of the 925 contracts reported, Madison reported 70, Hardin 63, Adair, 50, Nelson 27, Pendleton 28, Menifee 30, Lewis, 44, Adams county, Ohio, 63, Clermont county, Ohio, 21, Brown county, Ohio, 33. The remainder were from practically all the counties in the burley district.

John L. Buckley, who has been in Tennessee aiding in the burley campaign in that state, returned Saturday. He said that Col. Joseph Passmore was certain to win his campaign to sign up the dark district and that the burley counties would come into the Burley Association. Mr. Buckley said that sentiment in Buckner county, Tenn., where he and C. P. Cecil, of Danville, went to aid Col. Passmore, is practically solid for the Association among the business men and bankers. James N. Kehoe, vice president of the Burley Association, and a member of the executive committee, will speak at Gallatin, Tenn., Saturday, July 15. Mr. Buckley will accompany him.

President and General Manager James C. Stone received a telegram Saturday, notifying him that the Wisconsin Association has signed up 75 per cent of the crop in that state and crediting the success of the campaign to "your kind help at the finish," referring to aid given by speakers of the Burley Association including Charles M. Marvin, of Payne's Depot, and Director J. D. Craddock, of Munfordville.

TWO KILLED WHEN AUTO OVERTURNES

Fatal Accident Sunday Afternoon Just Beyond Pine Grove On Todd's Road

Two persons were killed and another seriously injured Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock when the automobile in which they were riding left the road and turned over at a curve on the Todd's road nine miles from Lexington and one-half mile west of Pine Grove.

The dead are: W. Clay Lacy, 50 years old, oil operator of West Liberty, Ky., and Mrs. Edward J. Baxter, 30 years old, 240 East Third street, Lexington.

The third occupant of the car, Elvin Linden, oil operator, 335 Transylvania Park, is unconscious. Mr. and Mrs. M. Cook, of Lexington, and their daughter, were the first to reach the scene of the accident. The bodies were taken to Winchester to wait word from relatives.

Linden was delirious for several hours after the accident. The accident happened directly in front of Mrs. Jake Gay's farm, one-half mile west of Pine Grove station at a sharp turn in the road. The left front wheel of the automobile broke, causing the machine to overturn several times before coming to a standstill upside down.

The three occupants were thrown clear of the automobile after it had turned over on them the first time. Linden was driving.

The faces of Lacy and Mrs. Baxter were badly mutilated and their skulls crushed. The machine, a new Big Six Studebaker, owned by Linden, was wrecked. Lacy was a prominent oil and coal man of West Liberty and was about 50 years old. Besides his widow, he is survived by six children, one brother, D. B. Lacy, of West Liberty, and two sisters, Mrs. H. C. Swango, of West Liberty, and Mrs. Harris Howard, of White Oak.

Mrs. Baxter was the former wife of a Louisville race horse man. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. M. A. Morgan, of 514 Pemberton avenue, and a brother, W. B. Morgan, of Lexington.

HARDIN WANTS "RICH" TO QUIT

(From Harrodsburg Herald)
Judge Chas. A. Hardin, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, has written Capt. Vernon Richardson, editor of the Danville Advocate, urging him to withdraw from the Congressional race in opposition to Hon. Ralph Gilbert, Editor Richardson is considering the matter and there is a strong feeling that he will do so in the interest of party harmony. If he withdraws, preventing a party fight in the primary, there is no doubt as to the outcome in the November election as Judge Gilbert can take the measure of any comer in the Republican ranks.

Two candidates are still in the race for the Republican nomination—Hubbard, of Garrard, and Kinkead, of Boyle, and they will likely fight it out in the primary August 5th.

OLDEST MAN IN WORLD IS DEAD

"Uncle John" Shell Dies In Leslie County After Remarkable Span of Life

Grassy Creek, Ky., July 10—John Shell, "oldest man in the world," is dead at his home here. He had records to show he was born in Tennessee in 1788 so that he would have been 134 years old if he had lived to his next birthday, September 30.

Mr. Shell, who had lived more than 100 years on the same farm in Leslie county, was well past the military age limit when the Mexican war broke out and at the beginning of the Civil War was in his seventies. His actual age had often been called in question, but doctors who examined him, said that they believed he was correct in his statement of his longevity.

One of the most remarkable things about his funeral is that at his grave two of the mourners were brothers, one 83 years older than the other. William, 90, and Albert, 87, are the twins, the latter being the son of Uncle John's second wife, who was 45 when he married her and who is the only child of her union.

By his first wife, who died 12 years ago at the reputed age of 122, Uncle John had four sons and a daughter, who survive him, as do several grand children, many great grand children and a number of great great grandchildren.

In appearance Mr. Shell was not greatly different from other extremely old persons in any community. Though considerably withered and weatherbeaten, he retained his vigor to a surprising degree and was impatient with those who would have put him away in a chimney corner. He was five feet, five inches in height and weighed 103 pounds.

To those asking advice, he always replied "Hard work is the way to keep well." He had no use for medicines and pills and was never seriously ill up to the time of his death.

Mr. Shell claimed to have cut his third set of teeth several years ago. His habits have always been moderate but he was not a total abstainer, using whiskey in moderation, and a little tobacco. Up to ten years ago, he made it a habit to walk to Hyden, the county seat of Leslie county, 30 miles away. His vision was good to the last and he was able to show his little son, Albert, how to bring down a squirrel. He said that he had killed many bears and deer with the same weapon.

FAYETTE GROWER SUED BY POOL

Garrett Watts Charged With Violating Contract to Deliver 75,000 Pounds—$3,500 Asked

Lexington, Ky., July 10—The Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association late Saturday afternoon took the first step to enforce its marketing agreement and contract with its members when it served papers in a suit against Garrett Watts, wealthy Fayette county farmer, alleging that he violated his contract.

It is charged that he failed to deliver to it under that contract more than 70,000 pounds of tobacco and that he delivered only 3,550 pounds to the association. Damages in the sum of $3,500 and attorneys' fees of $1,000 additional are asked, both damages and fees being provided for by the contract itself.

Mr. Watts had been to the races at Latonia Saturday and was on his way back home when a deputy sheriff boarded the train at Paris and served the papers in the suit, which was filed Saturday in the Bourbon circuit court, the association's attorneys being Franklin, Talbot and Chapman, of Lexington and Paris, and Worthington, Browning and Reed, Maysville. Just why the papers were served in Bourbon county or why the suit is filed in that county was not made clear Saturday night.

The petition recites the details of the organization of the burley association, the provision in the contract that growers who may violate it shall pay 5 cents a pound as liquidated damages, as well as all costs and attorneys' fees, and then goes on to say that Mr. Watts pledged 75,000 pounds of tobacco, the product of 75 acres of land owned by him; that he delivered to the association only 3,550 pounds; that the association went to the expense of acquiring warehouses to receive the crop of Mr. Watts and the other members of the association, employed graders and inspectors to standardize the grades of burley tobacco, and provided for the handling, curing and shipping of all tobacco entrusted to the plaintiff association by its members.

The petition further states due notice of the formation of the association was given Mr. Watts and all other members of the association and that Mr. Watts "though able to do so, failed and refused to deliver to the plaintiff association or to any warehouse or plant controlled by the association, or at all, any of the tobacco embraced in defendant's agreement and application for membership."

The plaintiff states that by reason of the defendant's breach of said contract and failure to deliver to plaintiff not less than 70,000 pounds of the tobacco embraced in said agreement and application for membership, the defendant becomes indebted to plaintiff in the agreed and stipulated sum of 5 cents per pound thereon, aggregating $3,500, no part of which has been paid; plaintiff states that $1,000 is a reasonable attorneys' fee for the plaintiff's attorneys for the prosecution of this action and that by the terms of said agreement defendant understood and agreed to pay the same, no part of which has been paid.

When the train on which Mr. Watts was coming from Latonia arrived at Paris it was boarded by Assistant Counsel Virgil Chapman, of the burley association, Clyde E. Buckley, a member, and Deputy Sheriff James Gibson. When they came to Mr. Watts' seat in the car, Mr. Buckley said pleasantly: "Good evening, Mr. Watts," and the deputy sheriff, who did not know Mr. Watts, promptly served the papers in the case, the petition having been filed previously with Circuit Clerk Webb, of the Bourbon circuit court.

The suit, the first of the kind filed since the organization of the burley association, is most important to that organization, for its success or failure will show either it has or has not the power to enforce its contracts by the punishment of those who may violate them.

SWIFT'S PRODUCE REVIEW

Movement of live poultry has been heavier than usual for this time of the year and as the demand for dressed poultry has fallen off to some extent, prices have worked to a lower level. It is the opinion of some of the trade that prices for poultry during the past few years have been higher relatively than for other kinds of meat, and for that reason, some are predicting lower values for all kinds of poultry for the entire season.

The quality of eggs being shipped at the present time is somewhat better than a week or two ago, on account of more favorable weather. The supply arriving at consuming markets is still greater than the demand, and surplus stocks are going to storage. Indications point to an extremely large surplus in storage July 1 over the same period last year, and the trade generally looks for reasonable values to continue throughout the remainder of the year.

Butter production is showing further decrease on account of pasturage conditions, but as there were heavy rains throughout a large portion of the producing territory last week, the decrease from now on should be more gradual. The demand continues good for butter for consuming purposes and for storage. The export demand, which existed a few weeks ago, has for the present, been taken care of.

"My father wouldn't let me marry Bobbie because he thought we were too young," the girl explained to City Chaplain Jim Goodheart between sobs. "So I got $50 and went to Little Rock where my sweetie lives and we went down to the station to elope to Denver. We found we hadn't enough money so I bought a ticket and Bobbie said he'd follow on a freight train. I got to Denver Tuesday and I've been sitting in the union station waiting and crying ever since. Say Mr. Goodheart do they shoot men when they find them riding on freight trains?"

SUMMER ALFALFA SEEDING AUG. 10 TO 20

Lexington, Ky., July 10—Under favorable moisture conditions, the summer seeding of alfalfa is best done in Kentucky from August 10 to 20, according to George Roberts, head of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. When seeded at this time of the year, the crop usually follows wheat, oats, rye, early potatoes or other crop that comes off early. Farmers who expect to seed alfalfa this summer should prepare the ground for it as early as possible, Mr. Roberts says.

"The ground should be broken six or seven inches deep and worked down to a well pulverized, firm condition. It usually is a good plan to precede the breaking by disking. At this time of the year it is also usually advisable to drag or harrow each day's breaking in order to pulverize the clods before they dry out. The soil should be harrowed after rains in order to conserve moisture. It also is desirable to harrow whenever young weeds or grasses appear since alfalfa does not thrive in their presence.

"If the ground is to limed it is a good plan to put the material on as soon as the ground is broken so that subsequent preparation will help distribute it through the soil. Unless the soil is known to be naturally supplied with lime, this material should be applied at the rate of three or four tons of ground limestone an acre or one-half this amount of burned lime.

"In all parts of the state outside of the central bluegrass region it is desirable to apply from four to five hundred pounds of acid phosphate an acre. This may be done any time after the limestone is applied and previous to seeding and should be harrowed into the soil.

"Just before seeding, it is a good practice to harrow and roll the ground. The seed should not be covered any deeper than is necessary to get it in contact with moist soils and in no case deeper than one and one-half inches. If it turns dry after seeding, rolling may help. The sub-surface type of roller is best for this purpose."

FLORIDA RAZORBACK ABOUT TO DISAPPEAR

(By Associated Press)
Gainesville, Fla., July 10—“Somebody ought to have a genuine Florida razor-back mounted before they become extinct. They are hard to find, now.”

This does not less an authority than the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture here officially confirm the suspicion that the porker around which so many yarns have been spun soon will be a candidate for the museum.

The Florida farmer is responsible for the passing of a pack of bones and bristles chock full of mischief. The razor-back, or native hog, usually could work his body into any place his nose could enter. He was reared on a farm but was permitted to roam the woods until he became half wild and only a photograph could portray the damage he could do once he wormed his way into a plot of cultivated ground. As an article of food he was worth little.

Florida farmers for several years have been stocking their places with pure bred swine, and now have reached the stage where discussion of a pig's pedigree is regarded as of extreme importance. Co-operative sales of fine pigs, boys' and girls' pig clubs organized and operated under the supervision of county agricultural agents, and numerous sectional organizations of hog breeders sounded the death knell of the razor-back.

There is every indication that the razor-back soon will be extinct. Floridians have said his backbone formed an edge sharp enough to cut a fence rail and many tourists believed the old yarn that the hundreds of thousands of pine trees on turpentine farms in the state, with the bark chipped off on two sides to a height of several feet, were damaged by the razor-backs sharpening themselves preparatory to cutting another fence. Snakes and alligators are rarely seen outside of zoos and now the razor-back is passing.

Wilmore Camp Meeting

The Wilmore Enterprise says that the annual Central Holiness Camp Meeting which starts at the camp grounds on July 20th and continues through ten days, promises a season of unusual interest and enjoyment. A large crowd is looked for and ample arrangements have been made for its accommodation and comfort. Men eminent in oratory and revival service are to be here. The music will be inspiring and under competent charge. The children's service will be run on a first class scale by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. Tents, cot, tags and board will be at a very reasonable rate as it is not the object of this association to make money.
